Al Avant Returns Favor to Changnon In Trip to Finals

STANLEY CHANGNON was in the coaches' office at Davenport gym following Mt. Vernon's win Saturday night over Mt. Carmel which gave the Rams a berth in the state finals.

As you probably know, Changnon was Mt. Vernon coach when the school won two straight state championships. He retired from active coaching but remained as athletic director after taking a team into the state finals two years ago. "Two years ago," Changnon said to Timmo, "Albert Avant was a sophomore and I included him on the ten boys I took to the state meet."

"This year," he continued, "Albert came up to me and said: 'Mr. Changnon, two years ago you took me to the state meet. This year I'm going to take you.'"

Truer words were never spoken. If it was boasting, it was the Dizzy Dean type, because Avant backed it up throughout the regional and sectional tournaments. If you follow basketball, you know it was he who was responsible for the Ram win over the Aces here Saturday night.

Don't ever remember so many cars and so many people in Harrisburg as were here for the sectional finals. It's the first time big Davenport gym ever looked small to me. Hundreds were in without places to sit and I saw one man who got inside give three boys a dollar each to get up and give their bleacher seats to him and two women. The boys got up very, very pleased at the deal and I'll wager they found someplace else to park themselves.

They didn't build Davenport gym too big.

Here's the way I figure there were around 4,500 or 4,600 in the gym for the finals.

The gym was built to seat around 4,400 if bleachers were put on the huge stage at the south end to seat 600. There were no such bleachers; so the seating capacity was really around 3,800. Put people in those seats, then add 700 or 800 who were either standing or sitting on the floor and you get 4,500 or 4,600 in the gym.

City, state and county police and part of the fire department worked in handling traffic out of Harrisburg after the game. There were times when the mass was solid, either not moving or moving slowly, from the high school to the Routes 45-13 intersection in east Harrisburg.

Biggest defection was from Mt. Carmel. One fan from there estimated 2,000. That's just an estimate but they sure came down in droves. They sure picked the right gyms, Harrisburg and West Frankfort, to handle the big crowds demanding to see the finals.

Bill Epperheimer, who lives on Granger street about three houses south of the gym, stayed home and listened to the game on the radio. At half time there was a knock on the door. He saw a stranger standing there who explained he was from Mt. Carmel, that he had heard the game on the radio as he was going to his car, and could he stop and listen.

He said that he had a bad heart, that the game was so close and the gym so crowded, he felt he should get outside.

The stranger and Epperheimer sat on the front porch and listened to the last half of the game.

One of the fellows who works with Epperheimer here at the Daily Register said the crowd was so big it pushed him back from his radio at home.

Local Educators Attend School at Giant City Park

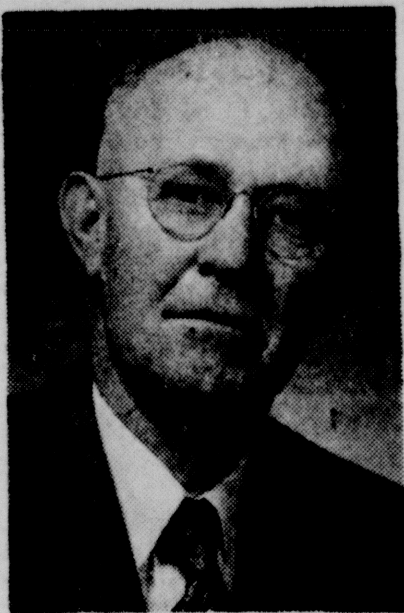

Three Harrisburg school men are attending a school for southern Illinois school administrators being held this week at Giant City park.

Med Carlisle, 65, Eldorado Druggist, Dies

H. M. (Med) Carlisle, Eldorado druggist, died suddenly at 5:15 p. m. yesterday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert R. Moore, 828 West Sloan street, Harrisburg.

Mr. Carlisle, 65, a registered pharmacist, had operated the Golden Rule drug store at Eldorado for more than 30 years.

He and Mrs. Carlisle stopped at the Moore home here for a visit yesterday afternoon and he apparently was feeling fine, relatives said. However, in about 10 minutes he complained of feeling bad and went into the bathroom to take a dose of some medicine that he had with him.

Then he lay down and as it was seen he was very ill a physician was called. Mr. Carlisle died in about a half hour. His body was taken to the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado.

Relatives said that Mr. Carlisle had a heart attack about a week ago but said nothing about it to his wife until the next day.

A native of the Broughton area north of Eldorado, he was well-known in the area. He was secretary of the Eldorado City Schools board of education.

Mr. Carlisle's wife, Hazel, whom he married in the late twenties, was employed in the law offices of Fowler and Rumsey in Harrisburg before her marriage. She is a sister of C. Ray Moore and Byron Moore of Harrisburg and Warner Moore of Michigan.

He has two daughters, Mrs. Jack Lamb of Eldorado and Mrs. James E. Bryant of Fresno, Calif.

He and Mrs. Carlisle resided at 2413 Glenwood avenue in Eldorado.

Metropolis Man Takes Oath of Office As U. S. Marshal

DANVILLE, Ill. — Vernon Woods, 39, Metropolis, took the oath of office today as U. S. marshal for the 45-county Eastern District of Illinois.

Woods, former state policeman and security officer at the Joppla atomic energy installation, succeeds Carl Werner, Danville, who resigned in January.

Regional Office to Sell 7,000 Housing Units Built During War II

CHICAGO (AP)—The regional office of the Public Housing Administration was embarked today on one of the biggest series of real estate deals in the nation's history.

It is in the process of selling to private purchasers 7,000 rental housing units built by the government during World War II.

Brice Martin, assistant to the director, said the government should get about $25,800,000 for the 7,000 units. The sale is due for completion by June 30, end of the fiscal year.

Hugo Schwartz, in charge of disposition of the property, said the huge sale is being conducted with a staff of only nine salesmen and two appraisers.

The regional office, which covers 12 midwestern states, will have 11,000 units left on its hands when the current transactions are completed.

Big Sale Wednesday
Some of these 11,000 have been frozen under government operation at the request of the armed forces, but Martin said the rest will be sold under provisions of the Latham Act.

One of the biggest sales will be made Wednesday when the 1,006-unit Maple Grove park project at Windham, Ohio, built in 1943 to house war workers will be sold to the highest bidder.

The bids will be opened at the regional office here. The entire project is being sold to a single buyer because many of the buildings contain six or eight units and therefore the project "is not subdivisible," Martin said.

Weather Turns Placid After Violent Storms

Eight Killed, 58 Injured by Georgia Tornadoes

By United Press
After a weekend of violent storms, the weather turned placid today.

But with spring only six days away, the air still had a winter bite. Temperatures were below or near freezing in the entire northern two-thirds of the country, except the Pacific Coast.

The only precipitation was very light snow flurries which fell in an area from the southern Great Lakes northeastward to the Canadian border and southeastward to Virginia.

Although skies were clearing in the Midwest, many highways were glassy slick with ice. At least four ice-caused highway deaths were reported in the Midwest.

8 Killed By Tornadoes
In Chicago, traffic was slowed to a crawl by icy streets.

The death toll in tornadoes that twisted across Georgia Saturday, doing heavy damage to military installations, was set at eight.

At least 58 other persons were injured in the windstorms that slammed into Macon, Ga., and nearby Ft. Benning and Lawson Air Force Base.

Today's cool weather extended as far south as Texas where Brownsville reported 49 degrees.

A 7-year-old boy was killed Sunday afternoon when his father's light plane crashed in snow covered North Dakota. The boy was Michael Turgeon.

His father, Richard Turgeon, 33, was hospitalized at Carrington, N. D., with serious injuries.

Union Workers Support Water Improvement Drive

Guy Price, business representative for the retail clerks union, stated today the unions in Saline county as a whole are in favor of the water improvement program for Harrisburg.

At a meeting held Sunday concerning the problems of all-organized labor, the union workers approved a resolution asking workers to patronize home stores and to boost Harrisburg.

Harrisburg stores and other local firms it was brought out at the meeting employ a large number of workers who spend their money in Harrisburg. Firms mentioned as representative of those which employ a large number of workers and who sell their products in this area were Pankey's bakery, Smith Packing company and the Harrisburg Dairy.

County Court Cases Delayed

Several cases set for hearing before a jury in county court next week will not be heard due to the absence from town of Judge Ralph W. Choissier, it was learned today.

Eldorado City Hall Remodeled By Volunteers

ELDORADO, Ill. — Eldorado's three-story city hall was bright and shining today to start the week's business after a $10,000 remodeling job done Saturday by the townsfolk.

It was a part of the community betterment project known as "Operation Bootstrap."

Volunteer workers with brooms, mops, paint brushes and other equipment painted the interior of the building, poured concrete for the front steps, repaired woodwork and washed windows and planted trees on the lawn.

Among the workers was 4-year-old Susie Melton of nearby Harrisburg and Sol Skelton, 80, the oldest painter in town.

Mrs. Mary Alice Draper, chairman of the beautification committee, reported that $2,000 was received in cash donations in addition to the estimated $9,000 or $10,000 in time, labor and supplies given by people.

Local bakeries furnished bread and rolls, various stores supplied lunch meats, coffee, cream, sugar; there was ice cream from the dairy and soft drinks from bottling firms.

On the cornerstone of the newly erected steps are the words "Democracy At Work" and the townspeople surely gave a demonstration of Democracy at Work Saturday.

Operation Bootstrap is an outgrowth of a civic improvement plan started last September with aid from Southern Illinois university's department of community development headed by Richard W. Poston.

Projects in which no building has more than four units are offered for sale building by building, first to tenants and then to non-resident veterans.

Projects with buildings of more than four units are offered in their entirety to any group of tenants which forms a mutual corporation. If none is formed the entire project is sold to the highest bidder.

Units Sold at Herrin, Marion
Projects being sold to individuals on a building-by-building basis include 500 units at Inkster, Mich., most of which already have been sold at an average of $4,000 each; 300 brick-veneer units at Massillon, Ohio, for $5,000 each; 200 units at Herrin, Ill., for $2,800 each; 200 at Marion, Ill., for $2,900 each.

Schwartz said a 183-unit project at Evansville, Ind., will be offered to tenants on a building-by-building basis next week. So will 400 units at Manitowish, Wis., expected to sell from $3,000 to $4,000 each.

Sixty units at Roselare, Ill.; 350 at East Alton, Ill.; and 350 at Warren, Ohio, will be offered within the next two weeks.

Four-hundred units at La Porte, Ind., already have been offered to tenants.

A 1,900-unit at Wayne, Mich., also will be sold shortly.

Projects to be sold to mutual corporations include a 350-unit at Lincoln Heights, Ohio, a 300-unit at Muskegon, Mich., and two projects of 500 units at South Bend, Ind.

Knowland Urges McCarthy To Remain in Capital to Settle Fight with Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today urged Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to cancel a projected speaking tour and remain here until his explosive fight with the Army is cleared up.

Knowland told newsmen the charges detonating around McCarthy and his chief subcommittee counsel, Roy M. Cohn, are "sufficiently important that all members would want to give it priority consideration over all other engagements."

The Californian made the statement after newsmen commented that McCarthy, who has tentatively scheduled for Tuesday a meeting of his permanent investigating subcommittee, plans to be tied up for some days thereafter with a series of speaking engagements.

Knowland said he thought all members of the subcommittee should give the dispute immediate attention.

McCarthy tentatively scheduled a closed meeting of the subcommittee at 9:30 a. m. CST Tuesday to discuss the Cohn-Army fight. He is scheduled to speak in Chicago Wednesday and remain away from Washington for the rest of the week on speaking engagements in the Midwest.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a subcommittee member, proposed that two Senate subcommittees hold joint hearings to determine who is "telling the truth" in the dispute.

Knowland said an investigation to find all the facts should not be delayed.

"It should be proceeded with this week—and very promptly," he said, whether it took one day or two, or a week.

Knowland said the fact-finding hearings are the primary responsibility of McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee.

Stevenson Asks Eisenhower to 'Shed' McCarthy

Says Nixon Speech Confirms Gov't Hurt By McCarthyism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson has challenged President Eisenhower to shed Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy "as a party spokesman" to prove he is the unquestioned leader of the Republican Party.

Stevenson declared that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's speech Saturday night confirmed his belief that "McCarthyism was injuring the government, dividing the nation and diverting the attention from the real issues."

Nixon's address was the official Republican reply to a speech a week earlier in which Stevenson charged that Mr. Eisenhower had embraced McCarthyism.

The vice president did not say so Saturday. But he clearly had the Wisconsin Republican in mind when he said that men who have done good work hunting Communists have "by reckless talk and questionable methods made themselves the issue rather than the cause they believe in so deeply."

Stevenson Fires Back
Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, fired back late Sunday, in a statement issued thru the Democratic National Committee here.

"Vice President Nixon assured us that the President was the 'unquestioned leader of the Republican Party.' That is fine, as far as it goes. But will the Republican National Committee continue to use Sen. McCarthy as a party spokesman?"

Stevenson, who is vacationing at Hobe Sound, Fla., also accused Nixon of giving out "misleading" information about the number of subversives ousted in the administration's security program so that "we don't know yet how many Communists, if any, they have caught and dismissed."

Nixon said 422 federal employees fired or allowed to resign under the program had files indicating subversive activities or associations. He did not list any Communist dismissals.

Stevenson said the administration's policy of defense based on massive retaliation was "disowned in the middle of the week" but "reaffirmed by the vice president at the end of the week."

He referred to a statement last week by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, that the "new look" policy is based on other devices and weapons besides massive retaliation.

Generally, the reaction to Nixon's address followed party lines with Republicans praising it and Democrats criticizing or remaining silent.

Proposes Equal Time
The President's 15-minute speech will be carried at 9 p. m. EST tonight by all major television and the ABC and CBS radio networks. Television and radio re-broadcasts will be carried later tonight.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference last week that his talk would be a discussion of tax policies in relation to the administration's overall program. Basically, he is opposed to sharp tax cuts while the government still is trying to get out of the red.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) proposed Sunday night that the Democrats be given equal radio and television time to reply if the President takes a partisan position. He nominated George to give the Democratic response.

City May Start Using Blue Lake Water By Middle of Week

The south part of the line from Blue Lake to Harrisburg has been tested and is ready to go and the part toward this city probably will be tested today, Amos Doom, superintendent of the water department, said today.

He said there was a possibility that the city would start using Blue Lake water the middle of this week as the regular supply is getting very low.

President Gives Leaders Preview Of Talk Tonight

Concern Shown at Conference on Endangering Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told congressional leaders today Republican congressional tax cutters have gone a little too far and Democratic tax reduction proposals would be too much.

Mr. Eisenhower gave his views to Republican congressional leaders at the White House who received a preview of the national radio and television speech he will make tonight at 8 p. m. CST on taxes.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. told reporters Mr. Eisenhower thinks the House Ways and Means Committee already has gone "a little too far" in making federal excise sales tax cuts.

He further believes the Democratic drive to boost individual tax exemptions by $100 would be "too much."

Excise Slash Approved
The Democratic proposal would mean a loss to the Treasury of about 2 1/2 billion dollars a year.

The House already has approved an excise tax cut slash which means a loss of about one billion dollars a year.

In addition, the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee has approved a general tax revision bill which means a further cut of $1,300,000,000.

Martin said those proposals, plus a three-billion-dollar cut in individual income taxes which went into effect Jan. 1, and a two-billion-dollar cut in excess profits taxes on corporations would represent a total of more than seven billion dollars in tax relief this year.

Short Senate Easter Recess
The Massachusetts Republican said grave concern was expressed in the White House conference that if they went beyond that figure it would endanger the administration's program and delay a balanced budget for several years.

Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) said he hoped the Senate will be ready to take up the excise tax cut bill the first of next week.

Knowland said that because of its heavy work schedule the Senate probably will not take a full week of Easter recess as the House plans to do. Easter Sunday is April 18. He said the Senate recess probably would be from Thursday to Sunday.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), who has proposed an increase of $200 in personal income tax exemptions, predicted in an interview that Mr. Eisenhower will abandon the fight against the excise slash.

He said he knows Republican congressional leaders have advised the administration the battle is quite lost and a Republican leader is confident that he is convinced the administration is now reconciled to this.

DREW PEARSON SAYS: McCarthy Attacks Usually Based On Personal Revenge; McCloy Incurred Senator's Fury By Inspiring Ike's Book-Burning Speech; McCarthy Even Sent Sleuths to Germany to Investigate McCloy.

WASHINGTON. — If you trace the attacks of Senator McCarthy against most of the major targets he has aimed at, you will invariably detect an underlying motive of revenge — a motive reminiscent of totalitarian tactics in Europe before the war.

McCarthy attacked Senators Tydings of Maryland and Benton of Connecticut because one questioned his charge of 205 Communists in the state department; the other introduced a resolution asking for a probe of McCarthy.

McCarthy now seeks to defeat Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in Maine because she initiated the declaration of conscience which reflected on him. And of course the running feud with Secretary of the Army Stevens came after Stevens refused to admit that Fort Monmouth was riddled with Communists.

But the most brazen recent case of McCarthy's undeviatingness was against the former assistant secretary of war, John J. McCloy, now head of the Chase bank, which is not exactly a Communist institution.

McClay has been out of government for some years after a distinguished career not only in the War Department but as head of the World Bank and as high commissioner to Germany. Nevertheless, out of the clear blue, the senator from Wisconsin suddenly accused McClay of destroying records of Communists in the U. S. Army.

The charge was so untrue that McCarthy had to retract it publicly. But he still accused McClay of writing a wartime army order, which, McCarthy claimed, permitted Communists to be commissioned in the U. S. Army.

REASONS FOR REVENGE
But while the public has read of McCarthy's attack on McClay, they don't know the motives behind that attack. It dates back to a famous speech made by President Eisenhower at Dartmouth last spring in which the President condemned book-burning. McCarthy bitterly resented that speech — obviously aimed at him.

And since the speech was extemporaneous, McCarthy was determined to find out who had inspired it, even sent an investigator all the way to Hanover, N. H. to see who and what the inspiration was.

The inspiration, he found, was Mr. McClay. Actually, the inspiration was accidental. Here is what happened. McClay, too, was receiving an honorary degree from Dartmouth, and before the ceremonies, was talking to N. Y. Attorney Joseph Proskauer about the books that had been burned at U. S. information libraries abroad at the demand of Senator McCarthy.

Catching only a fragment of the conversation, President Eisenhower leaned forward and asked: "What's this, what's this?"

"I was telling about the burning of State Department books abroad," McClay replied.

"Oh, they're not burning books," Ike interposed.

"I'm afraid they are, Mr. President," McClay replied. "I have the evidence."

He then went on to tell the President how he, as an American official in Germany knew firsthand the tremendous achievement of state department libraries.

"Eighteen million Germans read those books in 1952 alone," McClay explained. "Probably as many Germans studied the principles of our founding fathers as did Americans, thanks to those books."

And the value of those books was that they were uncensored. They criticized you and me, and Dean Acheson and anyone else in government. The Germans knew they were uncensored and that was why they screamed into our libraries leaving the houses of Kultur empty.

"These were the books sent to American boys right after the war. Books which their parents and friends wanted them to read. There was nothing subversive about these books."

EISENHOWER IS MOVED
President Eisenhower listened intently. Then obviously moved he delivered impromptu the

Top Republicans Expect Gov. Dewey to Seek, Win Re-Election in New York

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Some top Republican political strategists are saying that they expect Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York to seek and win re-election again this year.

Dewey will be 52 years old this month. He is in the last year of a series of three terms as governor, the first of which began in January, 1943.

Speculation that Dewey will run again is based on several considerations. Among these is a belief that Dewey may want the voters' judgment as to his handling of the political get-rich-quick operations of big name Republicans and some racketeers who had stock in New York state harness racing tracks.

Friends of Dewey in the national administration have contended for months in private conversations that Dewey would yield to the demands of GOP leaders in New York and agree to seek re-election as governor on the theory that he is the party's best vote-getter in the state.

Moved Quickly
The murder of a racketeering labor leader last summer touched off an inquiry which shortly caused Republican National Committee-man J. Russell Sprague to resign that post in New York. Sprague has been a member of the Dewey brain trust over the years.

It developed that Sprague had open and secret holdings in harness tracks. He sold for $195,000 in 1946 raceways stock which cost him only $2,000 the year before.

Dewey moved quickly after the first hint of a connection between the tracks and the politicians. He set up a commission to investigate any big names along with big money figured in the hearings. The commission has finished its inquiry. It found nothing illegal but much to surprise the public in the methods by which politicians and racketeers made a good thing out of harness track holdings.

KEEPS SPARK PLUGS FIRING!

Spark plugs must operate over a wide range of speeds . . . from the slow-poke pace of stop-and-go city driving to the let'er-out action on country roads. To get the full acceleration, power and mileage rightfully yours, spark plugs have to fire as correctly as a champion sharpshooter. New Ashland Ethyl with ICA keeps them firing at top efficiency and extends spark plug life as much as 500 per cent by actual test.

Test-ride sensational new Ashland Ethyl with ICA in your own car. You'll feel the difference in one to three tanks full, depending on the condition of your car.

HOW ICA REDUCES SPARK PLUG FOULING

Stop-and-go city driving forms deposits on spark plugs. When these deposits heat up at high speeds, the current that should fire the plug leaks away and the plug misfires. ICA converts the deposits into non-conductors of electricity and the spark plugs deliver full fire power.

HOW ICA CONTROLS PRE-IGNITION

With ordinary gasolines, combustion chamber deposits become red-hot and ignite the fuel before the spark plug fires. This causes loss of power, rough engine performance and knock. ICA treats combustion chamber deposits to prevent pre-ignition of the gasoline.

LABORATORY-TESTED — PROVED ON THE ROAD

After years of research, ICA was selected as the best of more than 200 compounds tested. Over 2,000,000 miles of grueling road tests proved ICA works best in actual use.

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Jesse F. Stunson. Mrs. Stunson had as assistant hostesses Mrs. George McNab, Mrs. Delbert Balabas and Mrs. D. E. Cavender.

The meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Clyde Wilmoth, after which all members joined in a Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, led by Mrs. Carl Rude substituting for the flag chairman, Mrs. N. A. Herrmann. This was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. J. A. Musgrave gave them devotion substituting for the chaplain, Mrs. Stunson.

The record of the last meeting was read by the recording secretary, Mrs. H. E. Mitchell Jr. The treasurer, Mrs. C. R. VanTress, gave her report and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Hatfield, read some correspondence of interest to the organization.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. R. D. Brown of the Program committee. Mrs. Brown introduced Mrs. Frank S. Gray who gave an interesting history of the conditions existing at the time the first settlers came to Harrisburg and the surrounding community. She told of the men and their families that lived here in those days and gave so much of their lives to the building and progress of Saline county. Some of their descendants are well known residents of Harrisburg at this time.

Mrs. Gray had taken pictures of the old homes and public buildings that played such a part in the history of our community. These were shown by a movie projector. With each picture she gave a short history of the building and what he and his family did and how they helped develop and make history for the town.

Among the old homes shown were the Burnett log house, this side of Muddy on Route 45; Pryor Lee Skaggs home, corner of Jackson and Walnut; C. P. Skaggs, corner Skaggs and Poplar; Mary Seten house on West Church; Raum or Board house, East Walnut; Cap Parish home now known as Wesley Center; Wm. H. Parish property, East Poplar, and next door to this the Durham house now owned by Bill Dorris; Thomas Gregg house on East Poplar; the original Pruett home, East Church Street.

Christy property, corner Walnut and Webster, now occupied by Marie Hensley; Mick property across from Masonic temple; Robert King home at corner Walnut and Granger; J. T. Gaskins home now occupied by Gertrude Gaskins Mitsdarffer; Davenport home occupied by Mrs. M. D. Nesler; Dr. Swan's, corner Main and Walnut; also his earlier home now occupied by Miss Maud Barter; the Whitley-Reynolds house, now owned by R. D. Brown; Crawford Wilson's, corner Skaggs and Poplar; Mallonee house on East Walnut; now the Elsie Reed beauty parlor; the Goodrich property, present owned by Mrs. Charles Ferguson; the Parker hotel on East Locust, near the railroad; the Old Spread Eagle which has been moved to Land and Poplar. This was the old broom factory. Also shown was the first poor farm on South Granger now known as the Evergreen apartments.

Mrs. Gray also brought to the meeting some of the first Saline county newspapers. Some of the comments in these papers were very interesting and amusing. One paper mentioned the wonderful supply of water that Harrisburg had.

First Baptist WMS Holds Season of Prayer for Home Missions in 3-Day Program

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church held its Season of Prayer for Home Missions and the Ingathering of the Annie Armstrong Offering on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, March 9, 10 and 11, with the general program chairman of the W. M. S., Mrs. D. H. Hiller, in charge.

At the opening of the Tuesday afternoon service, Mrs. Donald Whitlock gave a brief biographical sketch of the life of Miss Annie Armstrong in whose honor the offering, received each year at this time, is named. This money is used to further the cause of missions in 36 of the 48 states, Cuba, Panama, Canal Zone and Alaska. Miss Armstrong was the woman chiefly responsible for the organization of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention and was for eighteen years its corresponding secretary.

Theme for this year's service was "Freedom's Holy Light," and the idea was carried throughout the entire series of services that "Freedom's Holy Light" and "The Light of the World" are interdependent; that as America stands as a symbol of freedom to the other nations of the world, so she must stand as a symbol of Christianity, and to that end we further the cause of missions in our homeland. On Tuesday the theme was "Freedom's Holy Light — for Indian Americans" and Mrs. Ira Stille, dressed in Indian costume, greeted each arrival and gave her a copy of the day's program and of the responsive reading to be used. Wednesday's theme was "Freedom's Holy Light — for European Americans" and arrivals were greeted by Mrs. L. M. Waite. On Thursday, with the theme "Freedom's Holy Light — for Oriental Americans," on hand to greet all comers were Mrs. Paul Hays and her daughter, Martha, each dressed in authentic Japanese costumes.

At the front of the church auditorium was a table on which was placed a large photograph of Miss Annie Armstrong, flanked by tall white candles in double candleabra, with the plate for the offering to the front of the photograph. On one side of the table was placed the American flag and on the other the Christian flag. The flags were saluted and the pledge of allegiance to each given at the beginning of each day's service.

The devotional periods for the services were in the form of responsive readings, interspersed with verses of appropriate hymns. Mrs. Donald Heine was soloist for Tuesday's service, and Mrs. Herman Davis, soloist for the services Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Frances Cummins was accompanist for Tuesday and Wednesday's devotions with Mrs. Ernest Becker accompanist on Thursday. Leaders for the devotions were Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Burton Hall, Mrs. Charles Rauh, Mrs. F. G. Burnett, Mrs. L. M. Waite, Mrs. Loren Butler and Mrs. Ronnie Ziegler.

Those who presented program topics and led in prayer for the various phases of the mission work were Mrs. Paul Hays who closed each day's service with a thought concerning the offering and a short meditation. Mrs. L. I. Webb, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Marion Lane, Mrs. Ira Stille, Mrs. Mora Laxton, Mrs. Stella McNulty, Mrs. Loren Lucas, Mrs. Walter Wirth, Mrs. Grace Bramlet, Mrs. Howard Sronce, Mrs. Earl Hancock, Mrs. Albert Sisk, Mrs. Mima Woolard, Mrs. O. C. Heatherly, Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. Raymond Greer, Mrs. Ernest Becker, Mrs. John Cape, Mrs. Marion Froman, Mrs. Corby Wickham, Mrs. M. R. Williams, Mrs. Loren Butler and Mrs. Dee Hester.

Chapter Z. P. E. O. Elects New Officers

Mrs. John W. Towle was hostess to Chapter Z. P. E. O., for the regular meeting Friday afternoon, March 12. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. John Cape.

New officers for the coming year were elected and Mrs. Wayne Dixon, outgoing president, installed the following: Mrs. L. L. Parker, president; Mrs. Phillip Durham, vice president; Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Rude, corresponding secretary; Mrs. K. C. Capel, treasurer; Mrs. John Cape, chaplain; and Mrs. F. M. Sullivan, guard.

Mrs. L. L. Parker was elected delegate to the state P. E. O. convention to be held in Chicago April 22, 23, and 24. Mrs. Phillip Durham was elected alternate.

Mrs. Dora Capel was introduced by Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, program chairman, and she gave an interesting topic on "Sweden." After giving some statistics about the country and naming several people from Sweden who have contributed greatly to our country, Mrs. Capel reviewed the novel, "Land of Strangers," which tells the story of the hardships suffered by Swedish immigrants to this country. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Hershey Says Draft Calls Will Be Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has been alerted to look for a sharp step-up in draft calls, despite the end of the war in Korea and a cut in the size of the Army.

On the basis of figures supplied to a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public Sunday night current calls — running about 18,000 men monthly — almost will be doubled.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said the increase is made necessary by the two-year draft term. Heavy calls in fiscal 1951, after the Korean war began, were followed by lighter calls in 1952, then heavier calls in 1953 to replace those inducted in 1951.

Hershey said fiscal 1954, which runs through June, is a light draft year again, with an estimated induction total of 309,000 men. In fiscal 1955, starting July 1, an estimated 420,000 men will have to be called, he said. This would be 35,000 men monthly.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Illinois law governing stopping of motor vehicles at stop signs marking through highways was changed some by the 1953 session of the General Assembly to clarify the procedure a driver is required to follow.

Section 86 (c) of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic was amended to make these requirements: The vehicle must be brought to a full stop before entering a crosswalk on the near side of the intersection; if there is no crosswalk, the vehicle must be stopped at a clearly marked stop line; if there is neither crosswalk nor stop line, then the vehicle must be stopped "at the point nearest the intersecting roadway where the driver has a view of approaching traffic on the intersecting highway."

Having made the stop, drivers are then required to proceed cautiously, yielding the right of way to vehicles on the through highway which have already entered the intersection or are so close to it that they are an immediate hazard. (Section 70 (c), Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

Polar Drift
The drift of polar ice has long been noted by Arctic explorers. Commander Donald MacMillan says that a friend left his pants on the ice off Siberia in 1881 and they were found at Cape Farewell, Greenland, in 1894.

Society

Regular Meeting Held By
St. Ann's Altar Society

St. Ann's Altar society of St. Mary's Catholic church held its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening in the church hall.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Matthew Zimmer. Reports of the various committees were then heard and Mrs. Eugene Bridwell, reporting on children's activities, told of a Valentine party held for the children and plans for an egg hunt to be held for them before Easter Sunday. Mrs. W. I. Reynolds, chairman of the Sick committee, stated that she had made three visitations and sent two cheer cards during the month of February. Mrs. Dave Evans reported there were 96 members in the Altar society and announced the Deanery meeting to be held April 8th at Dahlgren at which time the yearly reports of the organizations will be given.

Mrs. Ed Harold read correspondence from the National Council of Catholic Women, explaining an "Adopt a Family" program for the aid of the people of Korea, also a letter calling attention to the added responsibility of the parents for the careful handling "for good" television.

Mrs. Trafton Dennis, program chairman, introduced Mrs. W. I. Reynolds who had prepared two beautiful Home Altars, demonstrating on the one the necessary articles to be assembled for the Sacrament of Extreme Unction and on the other, which was decorated with pink carnations, the articles necessary for the reception of the Sacrament of Holy Eucharist in the home. She carefully explained each article to be used and spoke on the proper conduct for the members of the family while the sacraments are being administered to the sick person in the home.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Don Leech, Mrs. Trafton Dennis, Mrs. Eugene Bridwell and Mrs. Ed Kezley accompanied by Mrs. John Molinarolo Jr., on the violin, sang "Dear Guardian of Mary." For the devotion the rosary, led by Mrs. C. A. E. Hauptmann, was recited by the members. The meeting was closed by prayer by Mrs. Matthew Zimmer.

Fidelis Class Members Have Party for Husbands
The members of the Fidelis class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Friday at 6:30 p. m. for a potluck supper with their husbands and friends in the church basement.

A large table was decorated with green and white with bouquets of jonquils and a large centerpiece of red azaleas. Each person wearing a shamrock seated himself at the table. The menu consisted of baked ham, beans and potato salad, green jello salad and pie. After the meal the group was led in singing Irish songs by Doyle Hedger who was accompanied by his wife at the piano.

Several games were played, one in which the couples were tied together at the wrists with a cord, the point being to be the first to get free.

The brotherhood quartet entertained the group with songs.

The Young Men's class will meet Sunday with Dave Martin as teacher.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carol Crabb, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ozment, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brinkley, and daughter, Connie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hedger, Tom Fife, Miss Myrna Gail Seats, Mrs. Barbara Grisham, Mrs. Barbara Ramsey, Mrs. Ida Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin, Miss Laura Raley, Mrs. Clint Norman, Mrs. Luther Brinkley and Kenneth Smith.

Reveal General Spent $1,200 For Doghouse

WASHINGTON (AP)—A general built a $1,200 doghouse at the taxpayers' expense on the grounds it was the "best interest" of government security.

Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren mentioned the project to some very interested congressmen recently. His testimony was released Sunday night.

According to Warren, Maj. Gen. Roderick Allen sponsored the canine palace for a number of expensive dogs he owns. He also had an enclosed, 90-by-60-foot dog run constructed for their exclusive use.

A wooden floor was installed in the kennel so the dogs would not lie on the bare earth, said Warren. "The fence was removed at a cost of $157.82 when, only five months after his arrival, the general was replaced as post commander."

At the time Allen was at Fort Dix, N. J. He is now in command at Fort Devens, Mass. He said today he had no idea the doghouse cost $1,200.

"Dogs are my specialty, the same as persons who have such things at gardens," said the general. "I had no idea such a price was put on the construction of the doghouse."

No Punishment
Rep. John Phillips (R-Calif.), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee which took the testimony, demanded to know what disciplinary action was taken against the general.

William Ellis, chief investigator for the "watchdog" General Accounting Office, said there "doubtless never will be" any punishment.

The most that can be hoped for, our greatest expectation, would be a very rare possibility the general might be charged with the $1,200.

Rep. George H. Andrews (D-Ala.) said "There is one way to stop them and that is to make them repay it or dismiss them from the service, which should be done."

"If they haven't any more common sense than that they should not be permitted to spend one dime of the taxpayers' money," Andrews said.

The other congressmen nodded in agreement.

Believe Four Escaped Prisoners Have Left State

TOLEDO, Ill. (AP)—A search for four prisoners who tore down the crumbling walls of the county jail and escaped was called off today.

The searching party, aided by bloodhounds and airplanes, learned belatedly that the fugitives stole a soil conservation truck shortly after their escape Saturday and were probably in another state.

The posse had been hunting around the wooded area near Toledo.

Three of the four, Lawrence W. Carr, 25, Cecil L. Summers, 21, and Russell King, 31, are wanted in West Virginia. Authorities from that state arrived to find their prisoners gone, aided in the search and returned today when the theft of the truck was discovered.

The fourth prisoner was identified as William Fisher, 17, held on an auto theft charge.

Queen Victoria used black blotting paper so no one could learn state secrets by reading blotting paper backward.

Bobby Thomson Hopes to Rejoin Braves in May

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Thomson, Milwaukee's injured outfielder, was in excellent spirits at St. Anthony's Hospital today and even predicted that he would be able to rejoin the Braves sometime in May.

Doctors said, however, that Thomson, who suffered a triple fracture of his right ankle in an exhibition game against the Yanks Saturday, will have to wear a cast about five or six weeks and it may take another month after that before he can play again.

Charlie Grimm, manager of the Braves, visited the 30-year-old outfielder Sunday as did his wife, who came here from the team's training site, Bradenton, Fla.

Hospital authorities said Thomson will remain here another day or two and then will be transferred to another hospital in Bradenton.

Alston, Stengel Named Managers for All-Star Game in July

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers today was named manager of the National League's 1954 all-star team and was promised the "complete cooperation" of league President Warren Giles for the classic to be played at Cleveland, July 13.

Giles informed Alston of the appointment in a telegram Sunday. The honor of managing the all-star squad annually goes to the manager who piloted the pennant winners of the previous season, but Charley Dressen, who led the Dodgers to the flag last year, was released by Brooklyn after the world Series.

Dressen is now managing Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, will manage the American League stars for the fifth straight time.

Penn State, LaSalle, Bradley, Southern Cal in NCAA Tourney Semi-Finals

By United Press
A "shock wave" of upsets sent four dark horse teams rolling toward Kansas City today for the semi-final round of the NCAA basketball tournament.

In one semi-final on Friday night, Penn State and La Salle will clash for the eastern title and then Bradley and Southern California will meet for the western. The two winners will collide on Saturday night for the national crown.

It's a strange group of semi-finalists because, in this tourney which reserves 14 of its 24 berths for league champions, the only

Holy Cross Coach Hails NIT Champs Best in Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — The coach of triumphant Holy Cross hailed his National Invitation Tournament champions today as "the greatest team in the nation" and predicted that, because of its key players, are sophomores, it will be a court power again next season.

"We won the tournament, and we're the best team in the country, because the kids are so smart, they can play four different defenses, and many, many different defenses," said elated Crusader Coach Lester (Buster) Sheary.

"And remember," Sheary pointed out, "three of my starters are only sophomores." One of those sophs, center Tom Heinsohn, was "the boy who beat us," according to Coach Donald (Dudey) Moore of top-seeded Duquesne, which was upset by the Crusaders in the thrilling finale Saturday night, 71-62. The others are outside shot Joe Liebler and hard-driving Don Prohovich.

The two seniors on the Crusader first team were Togo Palazzi, who was voted the tourney's "most valuable player" award as the bellwether of the Holy Cross attack with 77 points in three games, and Ron Perry, the brilliant playmaker who "runs the show" on the floor for the champs.

A key factor in the defeat of Oklahoma A&M, ranked as the nation's No. 4 team at the end of the regular season, was the fact that the Aggies' 6-11 Bobby Matlock, was tagged with four personal fouls in the first 15 minutes. He sat out the rest of the first half, then fouled out quickly when he returned in the second.

All-American Tom Gola was the star for La Salle, as usual, dominating the backboards and leading the Explorers' attack with 22 points. Navy held La Salle to a 21-21 halftime tie, but three quick field goals by Bob Maples sent La Salle out to take charge in the third period.

In consolation games Saturday: At Philadelphia, North Carolina State downed Cornell, 65-54; at Iowa City, Indiana whipped Louisiana State, 73-62; at Stillwater, Rice trounced Colorado, 78-55; and at Corvallis, Idaho State edged Colorado A&M, 62-57.

Pitchers Mauled For 151 Homers In Spring Games

By United Press
Those groans in the grapefruit circuit stemmed today from badly mauled pitchers and fences which are bucking under the impact of 151 home runs walloped so far this spring.

A total of 23 homers were hit in games played Sunday, leading one dejected hurler to remark, "it looks like the rabbit ball has gone South for the spring."

Roy Campanella, who blasted a three-run homer Saturday, smacked one out of Miami Stadium Sunday to help the Dodgers lick the Red Sox, 9-6, for their fifth straight exhibition victory.

Earl Torgerson also got into the act, blasting a grand-slam homer against the Detroit Tigers in the Philadelphia Phillies' 14-11 triumph. Stan Palys, rookie Phillie outfielder, also connected for the circuit as did Jim Delsing, Al Kaline and Clarence (Buddy) Hicks of the Tigers.

Feller is Pounded
Home runs by Sherman Lollar and Bill Wilson were instrumental in the White Sox 7-5 triumph over the Yankees. Not to be completely outdone, Bob Cerv also belted one for the losers.

Bob Feller made his spring debut for the Indians and he didn't escape unscathed, either. The Giants pounded him for six runs in three innings, including a homer by Ray Katt, as they romped to a one-sided 16-6 decision. Rocky Nelson hit a pinch homer for Cleveland.

The Pirates, who have smashed a total of 19 homers so far, continued their barrage although they dropped a 7-5 decision to the Dodgers' "B" team. Rookie Jerry Lynch cracked out his third homer of the spring while Gail Henley, another rookie, hit his first round-tripper. Ernie Yellen homered for the Brooklyn fledglings.

Rookie Billie Queen, one of the aspirants for Bobby Thomson's left field job with the Braves, blasted a three-run homer as Milwaukee subdued Cincinnati, 14-8. Johnny Logan and Del Crandall also chipped in with circuit wallops for the Braves while Gus Bell and Chuck Harmon smashed homers for the Redlegs.

Cardinals Win
The Cardinals scored their second straight victory on the West Coast since flying there from Florida by beating the Cubs, 4-2, at Los Angeles. Dee Fondy homered for the Cubs.

Don Bollweg slammed a grand-slam homer and rookie Harry Minor hit a two-run homer to help the Athletics whip Washington, 13-3. Roy Sievers' two-run homer in the ninth produced the Senators' last two runs.

Only one game was played in which a home run wasn't hit yesterday and in that contest, the Baltimore Orioles defeated San Diego of the Pacific Coast League 10-4, at San Diego.

Snapshots of Sweet 16 State Cage Tourney

CHAMPAIGN (AP) — Snapshots of the Sweet Sixteen:

Should Illinois have a 16-team prep basketball championship tournament or switch to a four team meet?

That question will be asked of high school principals late this month by Al Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Assn. The IHSA board directed Willis to make the poll.

The IHSA board voted recently to abide by the results of this referendum on a two-year experimental basis.

Six former state champions are in the Sweet Sixteen field this year — Mount Vernon, Springfield, Harvey, Peoria Central, Quincy and Pinckneyville.

Mount Vernon could set a new record of four state titles by winning this week's event. The Rams were champs in 1920, 1949 and 1950 and are among five three-time titlists.

Rockford, champion in 1911, 1919 and 1939, is one of the schools sharing the record with Mount Vernon. Rockford took these titles before it had two schools representing it—East and West.

Ten of the 15 teams listed in the final season ratings by the United Press Board of Coaches March 2 survived to the state finals.

The 10, with their ratings, are Pinckneyville, 2; Mount Vernon, 3; Quincy, 4; Rockford East, 5; Edwardsville, 6; Litchfield, 7; Moline, 9 (tie); Barrington, 12; Princeton, 13, and Peoria Central, 15.

Those eliminated were led by La Grange, the No. 1 team in the ratings. Others were Wood River, 8; Cicero Morton, 9 (tie); Centralia, 11; and Park Forest Rich, 14.

Only three teams from last year's Sweet Sixteen are returning—Du Sable, Pinckneyville and Peoria Central. Pinckneyville is making its fourth straight appearance in Huff gym and its sixth in the past eight years. This is Du Sable's second visit to Champaign.

Peoria Central has played in 11 championship tournaments and won one—the first meet, played in 1908 at Oak Park.

Quincy played six games during its regular season with squads which will join the Blue Devils in the state finals—two with Pinckneyville and one each with Peoria Central, Edwardsville, Springfield and Moline. Quincy split with Pinckneyville, lost to Moline and won the other three contests.

Two first-round games pit teams which met during the cage season —Rockford East vs. Moline and Springfield vs. Pinckneyville. Moline whipped Rockford East 77-57 Dec. 4 and Pinckneyville beat Springfield 53-31 Dec. 19.

Cumberland, Princeton, Bowen, Litchfield and Barrington never have played in the finals before. Bowen is the only finalist that came up through the district tournament round.

Eugene Dick is Named Coach at Pope County High

Eugene Dick, former Vienna high school cage star, has been named to coach at Pope county high next year. It was announced last week by school officials there.

Dick will succeed Tim O'Brien, who this year doubled as coach and principal. O'Brien will devote his full time next year to administrative duties.

Dick has also made an outstanding record at Murray State Teachers college, Murray, Ky., where he participated in both basketball and baseball. He was a guard on the 1951 OVC championship cage team at Murray, playing under the direction of Coach Harlan Hodges.

A native of Buncombe, Ill., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dick, of that city, he is completing his schooling at Murray this spring, following a four-year hitch in the Navy. He is married.

At Pope County high, Dick will teach boys' physical education and health as well as coach.

Freshman Cage Tourney Gets Under Way Tonight

A freshman basketball tournament gets under way tonight at McLeansboro with Harrisburg, Eldorado, Carrier Mills and McLeansboro competing.

It will be a "blind draw" affair like the Saline county tournament held in January, with the four teams drawing for opponents at 6:15 p. m. First game will be at 7, the second at 8:30. Winners will play for the championship in tomorrow night's finale, preceded by a tilt for third place between tonight's losers.

HTHS Frosh Coach John VanderPluym said he would take Benjie Fulkerson, Bill Henshaw, Bill Bottomley, Wayne Stone, Jim Cummins, John Ziegler, Charles Cummins, Trevor Whiteside, Bobby Shewmake, Melvin Hicks and Joe Karnes.

Bryan Jones, VanderPluym's 6-3 freshman center, has been ill and will not make the trip.

XXXIV
Luke, propped up under Frailey's care on Jake's frontroom sofa and still swathed in bandages five days after the Green-Craffkin battle, declared irritably, "And I tell you again I don't know where Mar-ratt is!"
Naome's eyes searched his face.
"Did you give him my notes?"
"Course I never give 'em to him—how could I? Like I keep tryin' to tell you, right after you lit out of town to fetch Frailey he saddled up that big gray horse he brought an' took off, headin' south."
"But he was in no condition to ride!"
"All I know is he rode. An' he didn't waste time gettin' started."
"But why?" she asked despair-ingly. "Why would he ride off like that without a word?"

Luke didn't believe there was anything else Marratt could have done, feeling the way he did about the girl. Luke privately considered him one of the whitest men he'd known but this did not alter the fact of his being a man convicted of murder and sentenced to Yuma for the rest of his natural.
No, the clean break was best and swiftest mended.

"I reckon he had his reasons," he answered, when the sound of doe's buggy rolled into the yard.
That the old man had news was obvious as soon as he came into the room. "Your deciding to give Ives Hanna another chance has paid off, he told Luke setting down his bag and dropping his hat to haul up a chair. "Marratt, as you know, smashed both Craffkin's shoulders. Under the impression last night he wasn't long for this world, the man was persuaded by Hanna to make a complete confession. In this statement, taken down in front of witnesses, Craffkin has admitted," Frailey told Naome, "to most of the skulldug-gery laid locally to your father.
He has delivered himself of a terrible account in which he admits poisoning your mother and accepts full responsibility for the deaths of Jake Usher and Stanley Beckwith."

"About Dad's killing," Luke said
"did he mention why Ryerson all this time kept his mouth shut?"

"He didn't say in so many words," Frailey answered, "but the reason is plain enough from what he did say. Ryerson, so far as ranching is concerned, has always been a square peg in a round hole. Never cared about the business or been willing to assume the least interest in its details; a man of Craffkin's caliber would naturally take advantage of this. I think

Regional VA Officials to Speak Here Mar. 22

A program designed to explain subjects of interest to veterans is scheduled for Monday, March 22, at the American Legion home, Harrisburg, Commander Robert Hull announced today.

Five speakers from the Veterans Administration regional offices in Chicago will be present, according to the announcement. They are R. D. Beer, manager, Chicago regional office; A. B. Chadwick, adjudication officer; J. M. Richey, chief, vocational rehabilitation and education division; H. J. Swanson, contact officer; Dr. C. H. Ogden, assistant chief, professional services.

Subjects to be discussed will be matters pertaining to administration, claims, insurance, vocational rehabilitation and education and medical.

Meetings of this nature are held for the benefit of service officers of the various service organizations, the Red Cross and such others as may be engaged in counseling on veterans' affairs.

Similar meetings are scheduled as follows: East St. Louis, March 25; Springfield, March 24; Peoria, March 25 and Moline, March 26.
The meeting in Harrisburg is the only one scheduled for this section of the state and will draw representatives from throughout southern Illinois.

Scientists say there are about 10 lightning bolts over each square mile of sky area over the Middle Atlantic states each year.

Ryerson must have been more than a bit uneasy now and again, but I believe we can safely assume from the record that he preferred to ignore such things as he discovered to facing the unpleasantness of putting his foot down. When at last he realized the trend events were taking Craffkin killed Jake, I'm sure, deliberately to compromise him.

"Here, according to Craffkin's statement, is what happened. The pair of them went to see Jake about acquiring this property. During the resultant conversation Jake, by Craffkin's tell of it, became extremely abusive, suddenly dropping a hand toward the butt of his pistol. Craffkin, snatching Ryerson's, fired on the instant. As Jake was falling, Craffkin, hearing the sounds of somebody coming, thrust the smoking belt gun into Ryerson's hands. You came on the scene, Luke, to see him standing with it over your father; and from that day on Craffkin has done as he pleased."

They sat quiet for awhile and presently Usher asked somewhat querulously, "When are you figurin' to let me out of this bed?"
"Isn't that woman I sent over to take care of you satisfactory?"
"I want to make a goin' concern of this spread."

"Then you'd better stay where you're at till those wounds heal.
And by the way, if Marratt should happen to drop around I think you'd better tell him there's a

Ranger looking this country over for him. . . ."

Marratt, after five days of living off sourdough and whatever he'd been able to knock over with a pistol, was still prowling the hills above Bella Loma, no nearer solving his problems than he'd been the day Gainer had got his come-uppance.

The long-buried side of his nature—the part of him that cared for Naome and was willing to acknowledge his love and its indebtedness—believed there could be no tomorrow in things he found here.
Better for all concerned that he get on his horse and either give himself up or get out of the country.

Many times after thinking about Naome, he had been in the mood to do this, but each time something had stopped him: the remembrance of Charlie, demanding for Ryerson the same retribution
he had dumped on Hugh Clagg.
Fair was fair. The Indian agent, Beckwith, scrambling to get his harp for his trouble. Gainer, with the example of Churk Craffkin's steals to egg him on, had staked his whole future—and his life, as it happened—on the glimpse of possibility of breaking Wine-glass and becoming top dog in the process. Their misdeeds had caught up with both of these men, and with Craffkin. Did Ryerson deserve to get off scotfree with what he had done?
